The regular monthly session of the commissioners' court convened today at the county court house, with Judge J. T. Maloney presiding and a full attendance of the commissioners.

INSTALLATION SERVICE.

Officers of Methodist Church and Auxiliaries for 1915 installed.

The installation services at which the officers of the First Methodist Church were inducted into office were held at the morning service yesterday.

Preceding the installation, Rev. Tally, pastor of the church, preached the first of a series of sermons on "A Constructive Program of the Church with Religion as the Main Issue," using as his text Matthew 6:25, and as his subject "Individualism in Christianity." The sermon carried with it a beautiful lesson, teaching that Christianity does not mean to curtail the individual, but to help one to develop to the highest point possible. The earnest words of the pastor left a profound impression on all present and all who heard were uplifted and encouraged.

The installation of the officers of the church, Sunday school and the societies of the church followed immediately after the sermon.

Following is a list of the officers installed and also a list of the standing committees of the church which have been appointed to serve during 1915:

BUILDING PLANK WALKS.

The city street forces have been at work recently placing plank walks at crossings which have been needing them badly. The most noticeable of these is one across East Anderson street near the fire station to be used in reaching the Bryan & College Interurban depot. Others will be built in the near future.

AT THE DIXIE.

To miss the pictures at the Dixie a single day this week means to miss a grand bill, because they are simply grand.

All day today—The famous Alice Hollister in one of her great adventures, "The Scorpion's Sting," in two reels of thrills; with Arthur Johnson and little Lottie Briscoe in a swell two-reel Lubin drama, "Comrade Kitty," and one of those famous George Ade fables. A laugh from start to finish is "The Fable of the City Grafters and the Unprotected Rubes."

Tuesday—Comes the first of a series of three by the famous Vitagraph Company, featuring beautiful Clara K. Young and Roger Lytton in "The Treachery of the Clouds." This serial is a parody on the numerous serials you have followed and is a scream of thrills from start to finish. It's too good to miss. Remember, it's on Tuesday. "Playthings of Fate," a Biograph beauty with Augusta Anderson. Hearst-Selig News and a grand two-reel Lubin, "A War Baby."

Wednesday—Handsome Richard Travers and Ruth Stonehouse in a grand two-reel special, "Surgeon Warren's Ward." Dorothy Kelly, James Morrison, George Cooper and Charles Eldridge in "The Man, the Mission and the Maid," a dandy Vitagraph. A grand two-reel Edison, "The Magnate of Paradise."

Thursday—One of those grand Vitagraph all-star Broadway attractions, with Earl Williams, Anita Stewart, Julia S. Gordon and Harry Northrup in "Two Women," one of the best Vitagraph ever made. It's a beauty in three thousand feet. Norma Talmage and Donald Hall in "A Daughter of Israel." Mabel Trunnell in the best of "Olive's Opportunities." "Olive's Other Self." This bill should bring every person in Bryan to the Dixie Thursday afternoon or night.

This six-reel masterpiece will run all day Thursday.

Friday—The famous Francis X. Bushman, Bryant Washburn and Lillian Drew in "The Gallantry of Jimmy Rogers." Gertrude McCoy in the next of "The Girl Who Owns Her Own Living." No. 1 was "The Stenographer." This number is entitled "The Girl at the Key." Allan Hale, Marie Newton and Edward Cecil in a grand two-reel Biograph drama, "Money." Arthur Johnson and Lottie Briscoe in the next "Beloved Adventurer" series, "A Partner to Providence."

Saturday—Two swell bills. One from 1 to 6:30, and a complete change at night from 6:30 to 11. Saturday afternoon—Handsome William Stowell and Marie Warner in a grand Selig two-reel special, "The Old Code." The famous Helen Holmes in an amazing drama, "The Leap From the Water Tower." William Wadsworth in one of those funny comedies for the children. Saturday night—Thomas Moore and cute little Marguerite Courtot in a two-reel comedy drama. Irene Hawley in a Biograph beauty, "The Girl He Brought Home." The Selig News Weekly with all the good news.

AMERICA SHOULD BE SATISFIED

English Press Thinks We Should Be Satisfied—Claims Huge Fraudulent Shipment of War Supplies.

(By Associated Press.) London, Jan. 11.—The British press generally believes the United States ought to be satisfied with the British note. They claim the note proves that enormous war supplies have reached Germany and Austria under the guise of neutral shipments.

WEATHER BULLETIN

(Copyrighted, 1914, by W. T. Foster.)

Washington, Jan. 9.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 10 to 14, warm wave 9 to 12, cool wave 12 to 16. Temperatures will average about or a little below normal and good, quiet, winter weather will prevail.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about January 14, cross Pacific slope by close of 15, great central valleys 16 to 18, Eastern sections 19. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about January 14, great central valleys 16, Eastern sections 18. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about January 17, great central valleys 19, Eastern sections 21.

This will inaugurate a period of warm weather, a January thaw, that will continue eight to ten days, and during that period most of the severe storms of the month will occur. Tendency of these storms will be to spend their principal forces along our Atlantic coasts.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about January 19, cross Pacific slope by close of 20, great central valleys 21 to 23, Eastern sections 24. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about January 19, great central valleys 21, Eastern sections 23. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about January 22, great central valleys 24, Eastern sections 26. This will be a continuation of the last warm spell, will be followed by a moderate cold wave and about normal temperatures to the end of January.

Beginning about February 20 all Eastern sections, particularly east of the Allegheny ridge, will get a great excess of rainfall till about August 20. This will be of great importance to farmers of those sections and as it promises to be as good as their guesses they should be guided by it in planting and sowing for the crops of 1915.

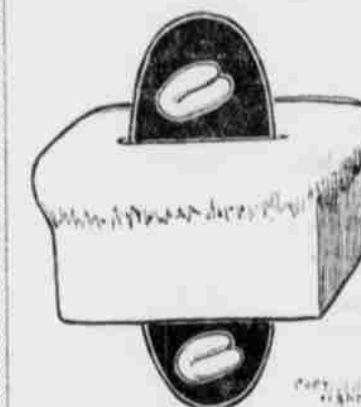

Of course this forecast cannot be absolutely correct for every locality, but we are quite positive that it will prove good for at least three-fourths of the country named. On account of the mountain ranges and the location of the evaporation section over a large part of the Atlantic southeast of our coasts, a small part of the country near the Atlantic coasts will get dry weather, while the excessive rains for five months will cross to the west side of the Alleghenies in a few places.

These local forecasts can be worked out, but it will require considerable extra efforts and those interested should either be guided by these general forecasts or engage stamp to us in reference to further information.

These excessive rains from February 20 to August 20 are expected to injure all winter grain in at least three-fourths of our Atlantic seaboard States, but will be fine for corn and the grasses. It will also be bad for cotton in Southeastern section.

Watch the results of these predicted floods up to about March 20 and you will have an indication of what you may expect later on.

The Middle Northwest is the great grain producing section, and in the next bulletin we will give a general forecast of the crop weather of that section for 1915. In our bulletin of January 23 will be given the results of our calculations for the Pacific slope and later our calculations for our island possessions and other parts of the West Indies.
